

DISCLAIMER

Please trade within affordable limits. In some cases, there is no guarantee that there will be no loss of principal due to fluctuations in market value. Not only may you lose your principal, but you may also be liable to pay more to make up for the loss, even if your loss is greater than the initial investment.

CFD trading is not for everyone. Spread contracts are only suitable for investors who fully understand the risks associated with these products. You should ensure that you are fully aware of the risks involved and exercise discretion when necessary.

Refer to the Risk Statement for information on the risk of spread contracts. Before we open an account, you must ensure that you have read and understood the document. Product disclosure statements can be downloaded from this website or obtained from our staff. We also recommend that you read and understand the documentation.

Changes in the price of the asset underlying the CFD, such as stocks, options, indices, foreign exchange rates, futures or commodity prices, are influenced by a variety of unpredictable factors from around the globe. Heavy fluctuations in the price of the underlying asset may prevent you from settling unconventional transactions. You do not own or have rights to any underlying assets (for example, in the case of an equity spread contract, you are entitled to receive dividend payments). You should consider the counterparty risk you have with WisunoFX and the counterparty risk WisunoFX has with its hedged counterparty.

You are obliged to maintain the required minimum margin for your trading account and to meet all margin call requirements in order to prevent WisunoFX from being unable to inform you of insufficient margin due to time constraints or severe fluctuations. For a detailed explanation of the risks associated with trading, please refer to the Risk Agreement and read the terms carefully.
